The Dominion Executive Council (DEC), is made up of representatives from each of the Provincial Commands, meets twice a year when the Dominion Convention is not in session. In the period between meetings of the DEC, the Legion is run by the Sub-Executive Committee made up of the Legion Officers elected at the Dominion Convention.

PROVINCIAL/COMMAND CONVENTION

The governing body of the Legion for each province is its Provincial Convention which convenes every two years. The Provincial Executive Council (PEC) is made up of representatives from each of the District Commands, meets twice a year when the Provincial Convention is not in session. In the period between meetings of the PEC, the Legion is run by the Sub-Executive Committee made up of the Legion Officers elected at the Provincial Convention.

DISTRICT/ZONE COUNCILS & CONVENTIONS

These also are governing bodies of the Legion made up from representatives of the next lower level right down to the Branch. The meeting schedules are announced in order that the representatives are advised in adequate time of their gathering. These echelons allows for a better span of control than having all governance emanating from Dominion/Provincial Command.
