

Good Day Comrades

I have been advised by the publisher of our Military Service Recognition Books, Fenety Marketing, that their graphics department are finalizing the set-up of our next publication and awaiting some final printer quotes and they should be on track to have our book printed and shipped by the end of September barring any unforeseen challenges. Once we are aware of shipping dates, I will advise everyone accordingly.

They are also getting ready to start making residential calls only for our 2020/21 advance telephone appeal. Last year they started on September 3rd and this year they plan on starting on Tuesday, September 1st. However, they will not be starting their business calling for another few months as they are still playing “catch up” on business sales for year #7 after that department was closed for 3 months during COVID-19.

Since their residential sales will be starting soon, I have enclosed copies of the Introduction Package that will also be sent out to all Branches next week so that Branches may begin recruiting again for submissions for our Volume #8. I will be sending a second email with other documents since the file is too large to send them all in this one email. For District Commanders, I would ask that you please pass this email and attachments onto your Zone Commanders to forward the information onto their Branches. It is important that they know about the resumption of the telephone sales resuming in case they receive any calls about the legitimacy of the calls.

We are confident, barring any COVID19 resurgence, that our year #8 program will be successful and exceed our year #7 program.

Best Regards,

Ron
